

FREE RESOURCES

Mission Connection and Engage web magazine – monthly online publications of Nazarene Missions International and Global Mission – are available free! All NMI presidents, council members, and all who are interested (including students) must subscribe to receive these monthly, current missions resources. The reason for requiring subscriptions is to prevent being blocked as "spam" in email inboxes, or being sent to incorrect email addresses. When you subscribe, you authorize it to be sent to you.

These two publications are unique. Mission Connection is a resource exchange for NMI leaders. In the past, it was sent via postal mail; however, with increasing costs of printing and postage, and in order to be better stewards of Nazarene mission dollars, it is now accessible online to everyone, not just NMI presidents. Every NMI president, council member and pastor should access Mission Connection to be informed as mission leaders.

Engage magazine contains stories about people, articles delving into our church's mission strategies, mission book reviews submitted by readers, how-to articles, photo packages, and personal reflection essays. Its target audience is every Nazarene, especially lay people. It is current and especially appealing to those who want to know "what's happening now" globally in Nazarene missions. It also provides interactive involvement.

To subscribe, simply go to www.nazarene.org - at the very bottom right-hand corner of the home page, you will see "Subscription Center." Click on that and fill out the information - be sure to mark all of the online publications you wish to receive - especially Engage Magazine, Mission Connection, Prayer Mobilization Line and WMB Transmission. You may also want to subscribe to Global Naz Pub (WM Lit) and other publications of interest to you. Take advantage of these FREE resources!
