African Dreams* by Pat Stockett Johnston

African Dreams chronicles the tremendous growth taking place in the Horn of Africa. The author includes the stories of missionary Howie Shute and Ermias Choliye, the first national district superintendent for the Horn of Africa. God used dreams to reveal to both men His purpose for their lives in Africa. Their dreams also wove together to produce the Horn of Africa church-multiplication explosion.

Footprints* by Bruce Blowers, David Blowers, and Brendan Blowers*

As missionaries in Papua New Guinea for 38 years, Bruce and Ruth Blowers often inked their children's footprints on cards and sent them to family and supporters in the United States. This practice inspired them to ink the kids' footprints on the back of the bathroom door in their wood-framed house. Those footprints became a meaningful symbol of their journey in Papua New Guinea.

Nothing Stands in Our Way* by Brian Utter*

Brian Utter shares stories from around the world about how the efforts of Nazarene World Mission Broadcast help bring people to Jesus. Readers will visit a prison in South America where a radio signal miraculously reaches its inmates. They'll learn about Daniel, the radio director for Papua New Guinea, and Romain in Peru. Other featured countries include Lebanon, Ecuador, India, Tonga, and the Philippines.

Traffic* by Bruce Nuffer and Darrell McLearn*

Traffic is a heart-wrenching story of a girl sold into the human trafficking business by her uncle. It is based on real circumstances, though the girl herself is fictional. Interwoven into the story is Darrell McLearn, a Nazarene pastor and anti-trafficking project manager for Concerned Women for America. As his eyes are opened to this modern-day slave trade, he desperately seeks a way to rescue the innocent victims.

Paul Orjala* by R. Franklin Cook

Paul Orjala was a versatile, multi-talented man. He radiated energy and took steps three at a time. He trained thousands of leaders, from students in Nazarene schools to the locals on the mission field. With his inquisitive mind and energetic spirit, Paul studied, wrote, and lectured in a way that gave form and substance to a mission philosophy that shaped the mission field for the entire Nazarene denomination.

Vistas* Compiled by R. Franklin Cook

Creating a climate for the Holiness message is the Church of the Nazarene's primary purpose. It is here and now that disciples are made, nurtured, and incorporated into the indigenous Body of Christ. Vistas is the attempt by several writers to give a taste of what's happening on the mission field. Their reflections are designed to bring the philosophy of missions up to the moment and into the future.

Blind Sided* by Tami Brumbaugh

Nine-year-old Mei wondered why her eyes hurt and her vision was blurry. After a near bicycle accident, a doctor's visit revealed an unexpected diagnosis of glaucoma. Mei received a laser treatment at Heart to Heart's visiting Mobile Eye Clinic, but another surgery was needed to prevent Mei from going blind. A surprise trip to the United States not only brought healing to Mei's eyes, but to her heart as well.

A Crocodile, a Cloth, and a Clean Water Well* by Elaine Cunningham

Eleven-year-old Ayana and her mother lived in an African village that had no well. Every day Ayana walked the dangerous path to the river and filled their bucket with contaminated water. One day she met Pastor Girma and his family. They not only helped to provide a clean water well in her village to satisfy physical thirst, but through a Bible Story Cloth introduced the villagers to Jesus, who satisfied their spiritual thirst.

The Night of the Storm* by Judi Wiegman

When a tornado struck the small town of Cactus, the lives of 10-year-old Mario and his family were forever changed. In the midst of confusion, they experienced the love of Jesus shown to them by Nazarenes from other parts of the Texas panhandle. Nazarene churches not only sent Crisis Care Kits and other necessities to help the people recover, they made plans to start a Nazarene church in Cactus.

Advanced Books

The Case of the Camp Cat Burglar* by Wes Eby

Chuck Jenkins, an 11-year-old boy nicknamed "Sherlock," went with his dad on a Work & Witness trip to Dominica. Soon after arriving, the team learned their supplies had been stolen from the campground where they were to build a cabin. Since Chuck loved solving mysteries, he was given the job of nabbing the cat burglar, but his detective work and witness made a difference in the lives of those on the island.

Project Proclaimer* by Cheryl Crouch

Keenan Brown was not your typical 11-year-old. His six-foot height and curly red hair made him shy away from everyone. Keenan only dreamed of making a difference in the world through his alter ego—Agent Awesome—until he learned about Project Proclaimer. With the help of his best friend and sidekick, Serna, he faced his fears and raised money to buy several Proclaimers, inspiring other children to do the same.

Spiders, Frogs, and Bears* by Lynda Boardman

Eleven-year-old Lilly traveled with her dad on a work and education mission trip to Belize in November 2008. Her first night's sleep was interrupted by a buggy-eyed, hopping creature, one of many unfamiliar sights and sounds she experienced.
